

Mar 7

Jesus in Drag

Hugh Findlay

Out of curiosity,

I went to the drag show where Jesus was performing in full regalia.

He sang and danced, and if I do say so myself,

did a wicked good job of impersonating

Dolly Parton.

He was, or rather, she was

flamboyant and enticing,

yet classy and tasteful.

And when she sang 9 to 5,

well, for one transformational moment,

I felt like I was watching Dolly in the flesh.

At the end of the show,

all the queens came out for a final parade,

with Jesus leading the cast.

In unison, they sang YMCA, which got a big rise out of the audience,

including me.

In fact, I was feeling so good that I thought I could try a show myself someday.

But then I remembered,

I am forever befuddled by the mysteries of women's undergarments.

Guess I'll just save myself for Elvis instead.

A Thanksgiving Tale >

Sign up with your email address to get updated when the 45th edition is released!

Franklin Pierce University

Northern New England Review

Save